What has become of the seven little governors that precipitated the third term movement?

UNCLE SAM is at a disadvantage in not being able to pay his senators as generously as some great corporations pay theirs.

PHILADELPHIA is trying getting its policemen from the country towns.

London adopted the plan long ago and it has worked well.

Some ultimate consumers, perceiving that beef on the hoof is $11 a hundred, are planning to let it remain on the hoof and see if that will help any.

GOVERNMENT postal banks have worked no injury to the regular banking organizations, and thus another lull is taken from the path of financial reform.

Now for the parcels post?

In English slaughter houses animals are killed by a new and humane method.

The instrument employed is a spring operated pistol that projects a sharp blade into the animal's head.

No bullet enters the animal, and as no powder is used, the pistol may be placed direct upon the vital point of the skull so that the aim will be unerring, death will be absolutely instantaneous, and the animal will feel no pain.

Get THEODORE ROOSEVELT was shot as he entered an automobile at Milwaukee about 8 o'clock Monday night, the assassin being John Schrank, of New York city, who acknowledges that for a month he has been following the ex-President for the purpose of killing him.

The bullet struck a bundle of papers in the right breast, and this arrested and deflected the ball, which penetrated the chest and is lodged in the tissues.

The lung cavity was not penetrated, and unless complications arise the Colonel will soon be out.

There is sincere and general rejoicing that the injuries inflicted are slight, and it affords much satisfaction that the act was that of an unbalanced mind, rather than the result of conspiracy.

Schrank was laboring under the delusion that Roosevelt had caused the death of McKinley, and that it was his duty to commit the deed.

Even so, that the cost of living is still rising and rising at a more alarming pace than ever before is given in the latest compilation of the Bradstreet monthly index.

Prices, which includes not only food but metals, textiles, coal, building material and a number of other things which go to make up the ordinary necessities of life.

The figures for September show that the cost of living climbed more in that period than in any previous month.

The September index number 9.45 is not only the highest on record, but represents a jump of 2.5 per cent over the August figure.

As compared with the previous high record, touched on May 1 last, the advance is 1.9 per cent.

A Correspondence Between Ex-Congressman J. D. Dugan And Judge Price.

Riverview, Oct. 11, 1912.

My Dear Judge: I noticed some days ago a correspondence between you and Hon. U. T. Harris.

I desire to say to you that I have had a similar experience to that of Mr. Harris, only a more active and perhaps a more devoted one in regard to the third or "Bull Moose" party.

I want to say that I have always admired Col. Roosevelt, every since he came into politics and I did all that I could to have him nominated on the Republican ticket at the Chicago convention and after the defeat I remained true to the party.

I want as a delegate to the convention that nominated him on a third party ticket, I came back with the determination to do all that I could for him and his race.

But one day I met up with an old Republican associate who said to me, "Dugan, who are you for in this race for president?"

I told him that I was undoubtedly for Col. Roosevelt.

He said, "then you are no longer a Republican." I told him that I was as good a Republican as anybody.

He said, "no good Republican would oppose the Republican party and a vote for Roosevelt would be a vote against the Republican party and would be an assistance to the Democratic party."

I told him that Roosevelt was a good Republican.

He then said, "Roosevelt says that he is not a Republican and has abandoned the principles of the Republican party and has adopted principles of a new party."

I then began to study and come to my senses.

I said to myself, "What am I?" and am I a bolter and a renegade.

So I came to a stand still. I then read carefully Roosevelt's platform and confession of faith that he was advocating.

I could see but little analogy with the Republican principles, and after he began making speeches in his tour over the states I said I am done with revolt and the adventure of Rooseveltism.

I am a Republican dyed in the wool and have now determined to stand by its principles and politics, live or die, sink or swim, I shall not forsake the old ship, but shall cast my vote for Wm. H. Taft for president, and I want to say to you that I am glad to know that others who have strayed off are coming to their senses and are coming home.

And to tell the truth I am ashamed of myself and feel like I had been off on a trip and got home with my people.

I regret my conduct and action in opposition to the Republican party which I have long advocated.

I am now conscious that every vote cast for Roosevelt is a vote against the Republican party and in favor of the Democratic party which we do not want; with this explanation I shall close, and remain.

Yours,

J. D. DUGAN.

Poplar Level, Oct. 15th, 1912.

The Hon. J. D. Dugan.

Dear sir: Yours of the 11th inst., received and would say in response that I am surprised at a man of your attainment and ability together with your congressional and political experience that you would suffer your self to be induced to engage in a revolt against your political party and to work for its overthrow and to follow the political rabble led by a self-constituted demagogue.

I am glad to hear that you have cut loose from such a clamorous element and no longer shall be drifted by the wild waves of Rooseveltism, but shall henceforth be found battling for the promotion and preservation of the Republican party, whose history is written in shining letters upon the progress and prosperity of our great country, within whose extended borders the hum of industry and the song of commerce is today heard from ocean to ocean and from lake to lake.

Let me say to you, that President Taft is the man for the times, the strong man for the occasion, one upon whom the people of the nation can depend and trust for security and safety.

He is the right man in the right place. He has been true and tried to the principles of the Republican party and has steadily kept his onward and upward course towards the goal of national safety, and with it in mind and courage and with the intelligence and ability of a matchless statesman he has heroically stood the taunts and attacks of Democratic demagogues and disgruntled insurgents, who have attempted to lead him into error and disaster by violating the principles and policies of his party, but he has stood and like a stone wall and an impenetrable line of defense for the perpetuation and growth of his great country, and never before has any of our great leaders placed the days of Lincoln before his feet and honored by as great a number of the noblest of public men, judges and functionaries.

I want to say further that I have always admired and respected the nation and not flow after a man travelling over the states in this nation bellowing like a bull moose, spitting fire and venom on a party and people who have loved him with the choice of President and gave him the reason that he is, and I want to say further that I do not believe that people have any desire to be deceived and misled by the Democratic party, that the only reason I have had in mind is that the people do not want to take another dose of it like they did in 1908.

The people and the business interests of the country cannot afford to turn down the present prosperous administration for one likely to be disastrous.

"A burnt child fears fire." And I do not believe that they can again be led into a death trap of Democracy.

I have no criticism to make of Gov. Woodson Wilson who heads the Democratic ticket. I believe that he is a honest gentleman, one of our ablest and most capable men, and that he is standing on the wrong end of a down stream at that, and that the wrong colors for the people of this country.

Now in conclusion, I want to say to you, that the children of Lincoln and the veterans of his grand old party will all look to his feet and defend it and be able to hold it against the combined attacks of all other parties on November the 5th, and that the flag of the party of Lincoln shall again wave in triumph over the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Now Mr. Dugan, let me congratulate you on your noble resolve, and believe me as ever,

Yours,

Watch Found Near Unity Church.

A watch was found near Unity church Saturday, Oct. 12; owner can recover by describing and paying for this notice. J. H. Lovell, Tel. 28 5, Depoy, Ky.

Merchants with full stocks of goods are going to be in mighty good shape to serve the public, as prices have already advanced strongly, in the face of a Presidential campaign, and predictions are for much heavier boosts after the election.

A novel entertainment is that provided for tonight at the Cumberland Presbyterian church when "A Musical Dream" will be rendered by local talent. Admission, adults 35c; children 15c.

Enjoyable, pleasing, witness the musical play at the C. P. church this evening.

Farmers of Muhlenberg will meet here Saturday morning to discuss the drainage of land, cleaning and straightening of water courses, and relative matters of importance.

There are losses of many thousands of dollars every year from water damage that could be comparatively small cost be removed, and the matter should have had attention long ago.

Mr. Robert D. Johnson, a brakeman in the employ of the L. & N. R. R. Co., in the city of Evansville, was killed there last Friday by being run over by a train.

Johnson formerly lived in this county, but left here about ten years ago.

His body was brought here Friday morning, accompanied by quite a number of Old Friends, of which order he was a member, and also by a number of his L. & N. employes.

The local lodge took charge of the body, and it was laid out and about a hundred friends attended the funeral at the C. P. church, where Rev. Woodson delivered a sermon, and interment was made under the trees of the cemetery.

The cause is favored by his wife and five children. He was a well known and popular man in the community, and his death has caused great sympathy and sorrow.

There was a large crowd in attendance, and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

WHEN PRAISE IS GIVEN.

He was rather a cracked one who'd always "beat" the game. He never attempted to play it fair, but he got there just the same. He owed an hundred percent his bills he'd never pay. But it didn't seem to bother him—he went the same old way. Let the other fellow worry, he could always have his fun. So they regard him in politics—he made a record run. That landed him in office and he ran it with a dash. He lived beyond his income and he stole five thousand cash. He misused the penitentiary by the splitting of a hair. And everybody knew it, but he didn't seem to care. Then one day he married and the papers spread it thick. He was a hustling business man who'd turned a lucky trick. And so it was he went his way until the day he died. They laid him low beneath the sod again, the papers lied. For every man can safely bet that twice his praise will rise—The first is when he takes a wife, the other's when he dies.

County school fair Nov. 15.
Good morning! Ordered your car yet?
See Coombs & Co. before you sell your beef hides. 0-27
This is the time when ice and coal bills lap.
Our glorious Indian summer has had a fine run.
"Bob White" is without doubt the best flour on earth.
There will be some startling revelations in the exhibits at the school fair.
Talent and genius will be shown in the offerings in the county school fair exhibits.
When you get "Quai" meal you get the best that is to be had.
Mr. John M. Wells continues to improve, and it is hoped will soon be out again.
Rev. R. B. Tandy is in Trenton, where he is assisting in a protracted revival.
A recent bulletin from the State Board of Health is devoted to the Hookworm, and shows 68 counties of Kentucky have the infection. No cases have been reported from Muhlenberg, but all doctors are watching carefully for any indications, as many more than half the counties have already discovered cases more or less numerous.

Mr. E. H. Tandy is visiting relatives in Bowling Green.

Tel. phone No. 7 and your laundry will be called for and delivered.

Mr. J. P. Morgan was in Chicago a few days last week on business affairs.

Mr. Joe Long was in Louisville last week to the meeting of the master bakers of the State.

Baby buggies at Roark's.

The dangerous fly has about disappeared, but the pesky mosquito is still with us.

To The Public.

We desire to announce to the public that our new mill is now in full operation, and we will at all times have on hand the very finest quality of flour, meal and feed. We are very anxious to do custom grinding for our friends, and can give them the very best flour and wheat that is to be had anywhere, in exchange for their corn and wheat.

HOMER MILLING CO. (INC.)

Program for tonight: "Musical Dream" at the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Be sure to see and hear the "Musical Dream" at the Cumberland church this evening. Proceeds go to the church building and maintenance fund.

No matter what you want in sewing machine supplies you can get it from Roark.

Mr. W. W. Bridges and wife, of Drakeboro were here Sunday, guests of the family of Mr. J. L. Rogers.

Mrs. David Cowell, of Earlinton, will arrive this week, on a visit to Mrs. John X. Taylor.

Dr. Liggett Bailey, of White Plains, who has been here assisting Dr. Moore while his partner, Dr. Beverly Martin, has been away on vacation, has returned to his home. Dr. Bailey is a bright young man, well qualified for the practice of his profession, and has a promising outlook.

Dr. J. S. Lyons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Louisville, last Sunday completed a service of twenty years with his congregation. Dr. Lyons is well known here, where he makes occasional visits, and is held in highest regard.

The co-operative grocery store, launched by the colored folks, opened last week in the Martin building, corner Wing Alley and Main cross street. A general line of groceries will be handled.

Papers were eagerly sought here Tuesday, everyone being anxious to learn the details of the assault on ex-President Roosevelt.

New patterns in the farsch contain rods received by Roark this week. Almost the full line in stock now.

Mr. W. H. Gray is in Louisville attending the sessions of the Masonic Grand Lodge.

The fiscal court has been in regular session this week, distributing the county funds in payment of claims that have been presented in large numbers, of course.

Fred Ivins, original auto enthusiast, is wearing an even more expensive smile nowadays, as he has sold one 1917 car, and has many other live prospects, some of which will be made happy soon in the possession of an automobile.

Get mounts for calendars, nut trees, etc. at this office.

The election returns will be received at the Alice theater on the night of the election, and seven reels of films will be run during the intermissions between the bulletins. This will be a comfortable way in which to hear the returns, and the house will be packed.

Diphtheria is still afflicting children over the county, but the cases are all receiving prompt attention, and there have been no fatalities so far, with the disease less prevalent, and the hope is that the epidemic is about over.

The revival services at the Baptist church were brought to a close Sunday night, when the rites of Baptism were administered to sixteen candidates. There were twenty-nine additions to the church, and all other churches in town also received additions from among those who professed. Dr. Compton, of Owensboro, is a preacher of great power, and a forceful speaker in revival efforts.

Best one ever made—the Kirsch curtain rods; Roark has a large line.

Hundreds of farmers want better drainage of land; be here Saturday and help them get it.

Because of the musical at the Cumberland Presbyterian church Mr. S. A. Harris will meet the boys of Greenville at the V. M. C. A. on Thursday afternoon at 3:45, just after school. Every boy in Greenville should be present to meet Mr. Harris, who is Boys' Secretary for the State of Kentucky. Come and bring the other fellow with you.

No matter how goes the election, the increased cost of living will continue, as manufacturers in all lines, almost, are increasing prices.

Miss Catherine Vize has returned from a stay of ten days with friends in Louisville and a visit to her parents in Morganfield.

Mr. Robert Hardison was in Louisville the latter part of last week on business affairs.

After the election is over the public will have nothing to worry about except Thanksgiving dinner and Christmas shopping.

Better get ready for the cold weather—it is coming, sure.

Mr. Arthur Howard was up from Martwick Sunday, spending the day at home.

Teachers and pupils of the county schools are working on the school fair matter, and our people are to be pleasantly surprised when they view the results Nov. 15.

There will be the usual number of changes of residence after the election, many moves being held up to avoid the loss of a vote.

Closing out sales, quitting business sales, special sales, money raising sales, regular sales, all these are on now on here, and are drawing people to town and causing considerable business.

Telegraphic press reports indicate an extraordinary number of robbery of railway trains, the approach of cold weather always bringing about extra activity on the part of criminals of this type.

It is estimated that there will be 2,000 school children of the county here to attend the school fair on Nov. 15. This promises to be one of the most interesting events that has occurred here in many a year.

Free Tuition for Road Engineers.

In order to give as much assistance as possible to prospective County Road Engineers, the College of Civil and Highway Engineering, at the University of Kentucky, in conjunction with the State Highway Department, will give a short course to any citizens of the State desiring to avail themselves of the opportunity. The course opened Monday, October 14, and will include Road Location, Construction and Maintenance, Field practice in Leveling and Surveying, Making Maps, Profiles and Estimates.

The University will have under way the reconstruction of about one mile of Macadam road during the period for which the short course has been scheduled, which will give an excellent opportunity for men attending the short course to see some actual construction. The construction of this road will be under the supervision of State Road Commissioner R. C. Terrell.

Every effort will be made to make the course valuable to men intending to take the examination for County Road Engineer. Applicants will be admitted to this course without tuition or fees of any nature whatsoever or reference to educational qualifications. The course will continue for ten weeks.

Go to Sam R. Martin's tonsorial parlor and bath house for an easy, close shave or an up-to-date haircut, near the Max Weir corner, leading barber shop in town, assisted by two first class workmen.

Yes we have an automobile and we will have more soon, too.

Less than three weeks until the election; unless you have made up your mind, better settle on some one to cast your vote.

Toleno raises have had plenty of time, and have gotten in all the weed in good shape.

If you can stand the pressure for three weeks longer the political troubles will by then all be settled.

There may be something in the theory that Col. Ross has promised his followers. One bull mooser was heard to say yesterday in answer to a long array of charges brought by a gop (and that's a good word): "Admitting all that you say is true, I'm going to vote for the colonel, because he is what he is, not because he was what he was."

Mr. C. S. Cird, W. M., is in Louisville this week, representing Pond River Lodge No. 241 at the annual meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Kentucky.

Meet with the farmers at the court house Saturday morning and lend your support to an effort that is to be made to clean and straighten creeks and branches, so that our annual loss may be stopped.

Col. John K. Hendrick, of Paducah, one of the ablest speakers in Kentucky, will be here next Saturday night and will make an address at 7:30 at the court house in the interest of Wilson and Marshall. Everyone is invited, and especially the ladies.

Miss Lena Arnold has a full supply of bulbs as follows: Hyacinths for pot culture, 10c. each; colors: light and dark blue, yellow, white, pink, bright scarlet. Hyacinths for bedding, 75c. per dozen, in same colors. Chinese lilies 15c. each; white Narcissus, 10c. per bulb or 35c. per dozen.

Friseo Campbell and Bill Stuart, colored drivers in the W. G. Duncan Coal Co., mines at Graham, were in collision early yesterday morning and Campbell was so badly injured that he died in a short while; Stuart escaped without injury.

Muhlenberg farmers are interested in water damage, and will inaugurate a campaign here Saturday for correcting this serious loss. Thousands of acres of the best land in the county cannot be put in cultivation on account of overflows, and every dollar expended in this work will pay big returns.
